

The Sinclair
Broadcasting
commandeering of the public airwaves to broadcast a highly partisan special
with the explicit
goal of influencing
an already
precarious election
as evidenced by the
timing and force of
the decision,
seriously threatens
the nation's credibility.

I have long felt that the FCC was
slipping in it's regulation of equal
political representation.
This is a most dangerous neglect
that directly
denigrates not only
the integrity of the media, but the
implementation of equality itself.
